Sawmill, Woodlot & Logging Expo Midwest Set to Debut in Youngstown, Ohio, June 3-4, 2005

New trade show will feature equipment, tools, and critical technology for today's competitive wood-processing industry

The first annual Sawmill, Woodlot & Logging Expo Midwest (SAWLEX) will take place June 3-4, 2005, in Youngstown, Ohio. The two-day event will be held at the Eastwood Expo Center and will feature hundreds of indoor exhibits and outdoor equipment displays and demonstrations.

"Attendees at Sawmill, Woodlot & Logging Expo Midwest will find the show to be unique in its business-to-business format, product exhibition, and educational offerings," says Ted Hugger, show director. "After extensive research into the professional needs of sawyers, loggers, and woodlot owners and managers, we've developed an industry event that will provide a technological foundation for building better, more profitable businesses."

Exhibitors will include the manufacturers and suppliers of feller-bunchers, harvesters, forwarders, log loaders, skidders, portable sawmills; mulch coloring systems, delimiters, chippers, firewood splitters, processors, conveyors, pallet equipment, dry kilns, chain saws, lumber grading and marking gear, moisture meters, safety equipment, tires, off-road trucks and equipment, ATVs, specialty trailers, and more.

Sawmill, Woodlot & Logging Expo Midwest will attract qualified forest product producers, sawyers, loggers, firewood processors, arborists, forest management professionals, and woodlot owners and managers.

As a showcase for the newest products and technology available, Sawmill, Woodlot & Logging Midwest promises to be a powerful event for exhibitors and attendees, alike. An easy day's drive for the largest population of loggers, sawyers, and woodlot owners in the United States, the Eastwood facility offers convenient access to Interstate 80, acres of paved demonstration and exhibit area, and close proximity to reasonably priced restaurants and hotels.

Independent Sawmill & Woodlot Management magazine will produce the annual Great Portable Sawmill Shoot-out® during SAWLEX 2005.
